One Hundred Twentieth Commencement
May Twenty-Second, Nineteen Hundred Eighty-One
Eight-Thirty Friday Morning
The National Anthem

O, say! Can you see, by the dawn's early light,
what so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
O, say, does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

JOSEPH D. MURPHY

This pencil drawing of Washington University's Brookings Hall, one of the Saint Louis community's most famous landmarks, is the work of Joseph D. Murphy. Mr. Murphy joined the faculty of Washington University's School of Architecture in 1935 and was a full-time member until 1952. During that period, he served from 1949 to 1952 as dean of the School of Architecture. He left academia to form the firm of Murphy and Mackey, Architects, with the late Eugene J. Mackey, a member of the University's School of Architecture faculty from 1941 to 1952. (Mr. Mackey subsequently served as a lecturer on hospital architecture for the graduate program in hospital administration, Washington University School of Medicine, from 1951 to 1968, when he died.) After losing his partner, Mr. Murphy, together with some of the younger members of the Murphy and Mackey organization, formed a new firm, Murphy, Downey, Wofford & Richman. Now retired as a practicing partner, Mr. Murphy resumed teaching part-time as an affiliate professor of architecture at the University in the spring of 1980. Earlier this year, he had a one-man exhibition of his watercolors, charcoal and pencil drawings at Saint Louis University's Cupples House Gallery.
THE ALMA MATER

Dear Alma Mater, Thy name is sweet to me.
Those days of youth which All of us spent with thee

Our hearts are all for thee Fair Washington.
Form a dear history, Fair Washington.

Thy halls shall honored be Throughout this great country
Could they renewed be, We'd live our days with thee

For all eternity, Our Washington.
For all eternity, Our Washington.
A Brief History of Washington University

Founded in 1853, the University was located in downtown St. Louis for its first fifty years. Ground for a new site on the edge of the city was purchased in 1894 and in 1900 construction was begun on the first five buildings of a plan based upon the medieval courtyards of Oxford and Cambridge Colleges.

These first ivy covered Gothic buildings with their red granite walls, arches and gargoyles formed the quadrangle. Upon completion, these original buildings were leased to the 1904 World’s Fair. The lease money made it possible to begin construction of additional buildings and all were used for the Fair before the University moved in. The athletic stadium, Francis Field, was built to accommodate the 1904 Olympic games, presented in conjunction with the Fair.

Over the years, the original “Academic Gothic’ architecture has been succeeded by a variety of eclectic styles, but certain key principles of the original plan were retained. Plazas and courtyards still reflect the original theme.

A Note on the Commencement Ceremony

Washington University and other American universities, public and private, follow the pattern developed at the University of Paris, which is believed to have been founded about 1100.

In the early days of Paris University the discipline of the student, and indeed their entire education fell under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Paris who was responsible for local educational matters. In an attempt to perform his office, the Bishop claimed supervision of curriculum and degree-granting. Here he ran into trouble from the teachers who felt they were the proper judges of the qualifications of their students. They demanded the right to grant the degree.

The modern commencement ceremony represents a compromise between the Bishop and the teaching masters. By 1200 the masters were judging the merits of the student and then recommending him to the Bishop for conferrence of the degree. The ceremony you will witness this morning is the successor to this medieval compromise. The Faculty sits on the platform in its role as teacher and examiner. Its leaders, the Deans, present the qualified candidates to the Chancellor, acting as executive officer of the Board. Today the Chancellor and the Board act, as did the medieval Bishop, as the final voice in educational matters.
A Note on Academic Dress

The academic dress worn by Faculty and candidates indicates the degree held, the subject in which it is held, and the institution granting it. Gowns are of three kinds: the Bachelor’s with full, pointed sleeves, hanging open; the Master’s with flowing sleeves which hang below the opening at the wrist; the Doctor’s with very full sleeves gathered at the wrist. The gowns are black, although occasionally trimmed with colored velvet; the hoods, on the other hand, are of many colors. The color of the lining of the hood indicates the institution granting the degree: e.g., the hood of Washington University is lined with red and green. The color of the tassel on the cap and of the velvet edging of the hood, carried forward around the throat, indicates the division of the university:

- White—Arts, Letters, Humanities
- Orange—Engineering
- Lilac—Dentistry
- Silver Beige—Business
- Dark Blue—Philosophy
- Brown—Fine Arts, Architecture, Interior Design
- Golden Yellow—Science
- Purple—Law
- Green—Medicine
- Pink—Music
- Citron—Social Work
- Light Blue—Education

Gold tassels and black tassels, when worn, indicate degree rather than faculty or major department. Thus gold indicates the Ph.D. degree and black indicates the Master’s degree.

Academic dress markedly different from the above description indicates a degree from a foreign university.

Banners

In addition to the coloring present in the academic dress, the division is also represented on the University’s Commencement banners. These banners are carried by a student marshal at the head of the procession for their division. They were designed by Louis Miksicek, a graduate of Washington University’s Fine Arts School, in 1974, and custom-made by a St. Louis firm. You will note that the lower section of the banner is red and green, the University’s colors, and that the upper section, which bears the seal of the University, is the color of the academic division.
Order of Procession and Presentation

Emeritus Appointments

Each year some members of the Washington University faculty reach the rank of emeritus. Their ability and service, in the classroom and out, has enriched the University and the lives of their students and colleagues. In appreciation for what they have done, we record here the names of those who attain emeritus rank by the end of the academic year 1980-81.

Edward Frank Allen
Professor of Oral Diagnosis and Radiology in the School of Dental Medicine
At Washington University since 1946

Harold Joseph Barnett
Professor of Economics
At Washington University since 1963

Estelle Brodman
Professor of Medical History in Anatomy and Librarian of the School of Medicine
At Washington University since 1961

William Frederick Fett
Professor of Art
At Washington University since 1946

John Campbell Georgian
Professor of Mechanical Engineering
At Washington University since 1949

Lynn Frederick Hovland
Associate Professor in the Physical Education Program Committee
At Washington University since 1949

Bernetta Maria Jackson
Professor of English and Professor of Education
At Washington University since 1955

David Lipkin
Eliot professor of Chemistry
At Washington University since 1946

Arthur Osver
Professor of Art
At Washington University since 1960

Pauline Dorriece Pirtle
Assistant Professor of Social Work
At Washington University since 1955

Edward Humphrey Reinhard
Professor of Medicine
At Washington University since 1940

Harriett Lee Steuernagel
Associate Professor of Library Science in Dentistry and Librarian in the School of Dental Medicine
At Washington University since 1946
DOCTOR OF ARTS

KATHERINE DUNHAM, dancer, choreographer, actress, writer, producer, composer, educator, civil rights activist and anthropologist, divides her time between Port-au-Prince, Haiti, and southern Illinois. Founding director of the Katherine Dunham Museum in East Saint Louis, she is director, also, of the Performing Arts Training Center of Southern Illinois University in that city. In addition, she is University Professor at Southern Illinois University’s Edwardsville campus. Miss Dunham was the first artist to explore and use for dance the anthropological and ethnological origins of her race. Paying tribute to her seminal contributions when she received the Albert Schweitzer Music Award in 1979, Walter Terry of Dance Magazine wrote that “the course of dance in America has been plotted by three ‘mighty matriarchs’: Duncan, St. Denis and Dunham.” Last year, her life and work were profiled in an hour-long telecast, “Divine Drumbeats: Katherine Dunham and Her People.” In Hollywood and the theatre, on the concert stage in this country and later abroad from 1947 to 1967, she has preferred to work with her own company, “I believe that one doesn’t do things alone,” she stressed. The author of six books, she published her most recent work, Kasamance, in 1974. Miss Dunham earned the Bachelor of Philosophy degree from the University of Chicago in 1937 and continues to pursue a life of research in social anthropology. She has received five honorary degrees.

DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

SIMON WIESENTHAL, writer and indefatigable hunter of war criminals responsible for the Holocaust during World War II, is head of the Jewish Documentation Center in Vienna, Austria. He is also vice president of the U.I.R.D. (Union Internationale des Resistants et Deportes). Born in Buczacz, now part of the Ukraine, he earned a degree in architectural engineering at the Technical University of Prague in 1932. His architectural career was cut short by Soviet and German invaders. Survivor of five Nazi concentration camps, Mr. Wiesenthal has dedicated his life to documenting the genocide that occurred in Europe under the German dictator, Adolf Hitler, and to tracking down its perpetrators. During the last thirty-six years, he has helped bring to justice over 1100 Nazi war criminals including Adolf Eichmann. He gathered and prepared evidence of Nazi atrocities for the War Crimes Section of the United States Army and for the Army’s Office of Strategic Services and Counter-Intelligence Corps. He also headed the Jewish Central Committee of the United States Zone of Austria, a relief and welfare organization. He has described his pursuit of war criminals in some of the eight books which he has published. The Simon Wiesenthal Center for Holocaust Studies at Yeshiva University, Los Angeles, California, is named in his honor. He has received many awards including a special Congressional Gold Medal presented to him by former President Jimmy Carter. Mr. Wiesenthal holds two honorary degrees.
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Edward Thaddeus Foote II, lawyer, educator, administrator and civic leader, will become the fourth president of the University of Miami on July 1. Acting dean and then dean of the Washington University School of Law from 1973 to 1980, he is presently advisor to Chancellor William H. Danforth and the Board of Trustees of this University. He is or has been on the board of more than a dozen legal, educational and governmental groups in Saint Louis and the state of Missouri during the past fifteen years. His activities as a volunteer include appointment to the Governor’s Conference on Education in 1978 and service from 1967 to 1973 as the founding president of the board of directors of the New City School of Saint Louis. In 1980, he was appointed by the Federal District Court the chairman of two committees concerned with local school desegregation. An advocate of cooperation as an alternative to mandatory desegregation, he prepared recommendations for a plan which would enable Saint Louis and its suburbs to become the first major American community to complete this process by voluntary methods. An officer in the United States Marine Corps Reserve, he served on active duty from 1959 to 1962. Mr. Foote was a newspaper reporter in Washington, D.C. before earning the Bachelor of Laws degree from Georgetown University Law Center in 1966. He received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Yale University in 1959. Mr. Foote became a member of the Saint Louis law firm of Bryan, Cave, McPheeters and McRoberts in 1966 and joined Washington University as vice chancellor, general counsel and secretary of the Board of Trustees in 1970.

DOCTOR OF LAWS

Donald Franchot McHenry, statesman and educator, is University Research Professor of Diplomacy and International Affairs at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C. He served from September 1979 until January 1981 as United States permanent representative to the United Nations and as a member of former President Jimmy Carter’s Cabinet. At the time of his appointment as ambassador, he was the United States deputy representative to the United Nations Security Council. Ambassador McHenry joined the United States Department of State in 1963 and received its Superior Honor Award three years later. On leave from the State Department in 1971, he was a visiting scholar at the Brookings Institution and an international affairs fellow of the Council on Foreign Relations. Ambassador McHenry was director of humanitarian policy studies at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace from 1973 to 1976, when he became a member of President Carter’s transition staff at the State Department. Subsequently, he joined the United States Mission to the United Nations. Ambassador McHenry is the author of Micronesia: Trust Betrayed, published by the Carnegie Endowment in 1975. Born in Saint Louis, Missouri, he grew up in East Saint Louis, Illinois. Ambassador McHenry earned the Bachelor of Science degree from Illinois State University in 1957 and the Master of Science degree from Southern Illinois University in 1959. He has done additional postgraduate work at Georgetown University.
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Harold Eugene Thayer, executive and industrialist, joined Mallinckrodt, Incorporated, Saint Louis, Missouri over forty years ago and has been chairman of its board of directors since 1965. A prominent business and civic leader, he has been active in industry-wide groups and in organizations working to improve local government. One of the chemical industry’s most experienced entrepreneurs, he has served as a key official of the Chemical Manufacturers Association and was the 1976 recipient of the Chemical Industry Medal of the Society of Chemical Industry. As an ardent supporter of civic causes, he is chairman of the board of directors of Barnes Hospital; vice president of Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley, Incorporated; director and past president of the Saint Louis Council, Boy Scouts of America; president of Lacledes Avenue Real Estate (Washington University Medical Center Redevelopment Corporation); director of the Washington University Medical Center board; past president and campaign chairman of the United Way of Greater Saint Louis; and past president and director of the Saint Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association. Concurrently, he is a director or trustee of three other community groups and two educational institutions. This concerned involvement has brought him many awards. Mr. Thayer earned the Bachelor of Science degree in chemical engineering administration from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1934. He received an honorary degree from the Saint Louis College of Pharmacy in 1963.

DOCTOR OF MUSIC

Leonard Slatkin, composer and musician, is music director and conductor of the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra. He is not only the first American to be named to these positions in the one hundred-year history of the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra, but he is also one of the very few Americans to lead a major symphony orchestra in this country. He is a scion of a musical family. His mother, Eleanor Aller Slatkin, is a gifted cellist; his father, the late Felix Slatkin, was a celebrated Hollywood conductor and violinist. Maestro Slatkin is sought after for guest appearances with nearly every major orchestra and summer festival in North America and abroad. Commencing his career as assistant conductor of the Aspen Musical Festival in 1964, he was named assistant conductor of the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra in 1968 and associate conductor in 1971. Maestro Slatkin left this city in 1977 to become music director and conductor of the New Orleans Philharmonic, but returned two years later to accept his present position. The recipient of numerous honors, he has been nominated for three Grammy Awards for recordings which he made with the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra during 1978 and 1979. Mr. Slatkin was one of only four conductors whom Isaac Stern invited to Paris to help him celebrate his fiftieth anniversary as a concert violinist. He earned the Bachelor of Music degree at the Juilliard School in 1968 and received an honorary Doctor of Music degree from the Saint Louis Conservatory of Music last year.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

Mildred Cohn, scientist and educator, is professor of biochemistry and biophysics and Benjamin Rush Professor of Physiological Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, Philadelphia. She is internationally recognized for her work with nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectroscopy and was one of the first to apply this technique to biological problems. Dr. Cohn began her work with NMR spectroscopy, a technique for obtaining important information about the structure, dynamics and interactions of atoms and molecules, at the Washington University School of Medicine in 1958. Earlier, after joining its faculty in 1946, she had pioneered the use of the stable isotope of oxygen in studying the mechanism of enzymatic reactions. Previously, she had been associated with the George Washington University School of Medicine and Cornell University’s Medical College. Dr. Cohn joined the university with which she is now affiliated in 1960. A symposium on “NMR and Biochemistry” was organized in her honor in 1978, and its proceedings, which reflect the breadth of her scientific interests, were published a year later. Dr. Cohn is a member of numerous prestigious groups including the National Academy of Sciences and the American Philosophical Society. She earned the Bachelor of Arts degree from Hunter College in 1931 and the Doctor of Philosophy degree from Columbia University in 1938. Dr. Cohn holds two honorary degrees.
DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

OLIVER HOWE LOWRY, scientist, educator and administrator, is Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Pharmacology at the Washington University School of Medicine. He began teaching at the Harvard Medical School in 1937 and joined the division of physiology and nutrition of the Public Health Research Institute in New York City in 1942. Dr. Lowry became professor of pharmacology and head of the department at the Washington University School of Medicine in 1947. He headed the pharmacology department until 1976 and was professor of pharmacology until 1979 when he assumed his present title. His basic research in biochemistry has made him one of the most cited authors in scientific literature. Dr. Lowry serves on the basic research advisory committee, March of Dimes, and is a member of many boards, panels and learned organizations. He was honored with the establishment of the annual Oliver H. Lowry Lectureship in 1978 and last year with the creation of the Oliver H. Lowry Prize for Excellence in Pharmacology by a Washington University medical student. Dr. Lowry earned the Bachelor of Science degree at Northwestern University in 1932 and was awarded the Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Medicine degrees from the University of Chicago in 1937. He pursued post-doctoral studies at the Carlsberg Laboratories, Copenhagen, Denmark, on a Commonwealth Fund Fellowship from 1939 to 1940.

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

GUSTAV KURT MESMER, engineer, aeronautical designer and educator, is Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus of Applied Mechanics, Department of Mechanical Engineering, School of Engineering and Applied Science, Washington University. In 1960-1961, Professor Mesmer organized at Washington University one of the first comprehensive courses on astronautics at an American university. He and Ernst Stuhlinger, a former National Aeronautics and Space Administration official, published its proceedings in a book, Space Science and Engineering, in 1965. Born in Bromberg, Germany, Professor Mesmer studied at Tübingen and Munich universities and earned the Doctor of Philosophy degree in applied mechanics at the University of Goettingen in 1930. He taught at various German universities, including Darmstadt which he headed briefly, before joining the Washington University School of Engineering as a Visiting Professor in 1950. Subsequently, he became professor and chairman of the Applied Mechanics Department, 1952 to 1964; director of the Sever Institute, Graduate School of Engineering, 1957 to 1964; and Distinguished Service Professor of Applied Mechanics, Department of Mechanical Engineering, 1964 to 1974, when he assumed his present title. Professor Mesmer was a Visiting Professor at the University of Darmstadt, 1957 to 1958, and at the University of Kabul, Afghanistan, 1966 to 1968. He has published three other books in his areas of specialization, two of them with collaborators.
