A Brief History of Washington University

Founded in 1853, the University was located in downtown St. Louis for its first fifty years. Ground for a new site on the edge of the city was purchased in 1894 and in 1900 construction was begun on the first five buildings of a plan based upon the medieval courtyards of Oxford and Cambridge Colleges.

These first ivy covered Gothic buildings with their red granite walls, arches and gargoyles formed the quadrangle. Upon completion, these original buildings were leased to the 1904 World's Fair. The lease money made it possible to begin construction of additional buildings and all were used for the Fair before the University moved in. The athletic stadium, Francis Field, was built to accommodate the 1904 Olympic games, presented in conjunction with the Fair.

Over the years, the original "Academic Gothic" architecture has been succeeded by a variety of eclectic styles, but certain key principles of the original plan were retained. Plazas and courtyards still reflect the original theme.

A Note on the Commencement Ceremony

Washington University and other American universities, public and private, follow the pattern of degree granting developed at the University of Paris, which was founded about 1100.

In the early days of the University of Paris the discipline of the students, and indeed their entire education fell under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Paris who was responsible for local educational matters. In an attempt to perform his office, the Bishop claimed supervision of curriculum and degree-granting. Here he ran into trouble from the teachers who felt they were the proper judges of the qualifications of their students. They demanded the right to grant the degree.

The modern commencement ceremony represents a compromise between the Bishop and the teaching masters. By 1200 the masters were judging the merits of the student and then recommending him to the Bishop who conferred the degree. The ceremony you will witness this morning is the successor to this medieval compromise. The Faculty sits on the platform in its role as teacher and examiner. Its leaders, the Deans, present the qualified candidates to the Chancellor, acting as executive officer of the Board. Today the Chancellor and the Board act, as did the medieval Bishop when, acting together, they grant accreditation upon the student's completion of the Faculty's requirements.
A Note on Academic Dress

The academic dress worn by Faculty and candidates indicates the degree held, the subject in which it is held, and the institution granting it. Gowns are of three kinds: the Bachelor's with full, pointed sleeves, hanging open; the Master's with flowing sleeves which hang below the opening at the wrist; the Doctor's with very full sleeves gathered at the wrist. The gowns are black, although occasionally trimmed with colored velvet. The hoods, on the other hand, are of many colors. The color of the lining of the hood indicates the institution granting the degree: e.g., the hood of Washington University is lined with red and green. The color of the tassel on the cap and of the velvet edging of the hood, carried forward around the throat, indicates the division of the university.

| White—Arts, Letters, Humanities | Silver Beige—Business |
| Dark Blue—Philosophy | Brown—Fine Arts |
| Golden Yellow—Science | Citron—Social Work |
| Orange—Engineering | Purple—Law |
| Grey—Technology | Lilac—Dentistry |
| Blue Violet—Architecture | Green—Medicine |

Academic dress markedly different from the above description indicates a degree from a foreign university.

Banners

In addition to the coloring present in the academic dress, the division is also represented on the University's Commencement banners. These banners are carried by a student marshal at the head of the procession for their division. You will note that the side sections of the banners are red and green, the University's colors, and that the center section, which bears the seal of the University, is the color of the academic division.

Emeritus Appointments

Each year some members of the Washington University faculty reach the rank of emeritus. Their ability and service, in the classroom and out, has enriched the University and the lives of their students and colleagues. In appreciation for what they have done, we record here the names of those who attain emeritus rank by the end of the academic year 1985-1986.

HONORARY DEGREES

PAUL BERG
DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

1980 was a banner year for Paul Berg. In addition to winning the Nobel Prize in Chemistry, he received the Annual Award of the Gairdner Foundation, the Albert Lasker Medical Research Award and the New York Academy of Sciences Award. The former WU microbiologist was recognized for his contributions to the medical sciences, especially for his fundamental studies of the biochemistry of nucleic acids, particularly recombinant DNA. Dr. Berg first came to WU in 1952 as a postdoctoral research fellow under Dr. Arthur Kornberg in the School of Medicine. In 1954, he was named a Scholar in Cancer Research and, the following year, attained the rank of Associate Professor of Microbiology. He moved to Stanford University School of Medicine in 1959 and, after a promotion to professor, became Chairman of the Department of Biochemistry from 1969 to 1974. He was named the Willson Professor of Biochemistry in 1970 and was Non-Resident of the Salk Institute from 1973 to 1983. Work on the genetic apparatus that directs the synthesis of proteins earned Dr. Berg the Eli Lilly Award in Biochemistry in 1959 and the California Scientist of the Year Award in 1963. In 1972, he was designated both the Harvey Lecturer and the V. D. Mattia Lecturer. In 1966, he was elected to membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the National Academy of Sciences and, more recently, to its Institute of Medicine; subsequently, he elected to serve on the Academy’s Council. He also is a member of the American Society of Bacteriologists and served as president of the American Society of Biological Chemists. Dr. Berg was elected as a foreign member of the Japanese Biochemical Society in 1978 and the French Academy in 1981. He received the American Association for the Advancement of Scientific Freedom and Responsibility Award in early 1982 and was elected to the American Philosophical Society in 1983. Dr. Berg earned his bachelor’s degree in 1948 from Pennsylvania State University and his doctorate in 1952 from Western Reserve University.

HELEN MANLEY
DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

When the University City School District hired Helen Manley in 1920 as a physical education instructor, public schools did not offer sex education. The sex education curriculum she developed, one of the first in the nation, led to her appointment in 1946 as Senior Specialist in Health and Physical Education for the United States Office of Education. Miss Manley’s list of accomplishments continues: She organized and led the first Girl Scout Troop in Missouri in 1917. She was appointed by the United States War Department in 1948 as a consultant to Japan in health education. She was a U.S. representative to the first International Congress of Essentials in Physical Education for Youth in 1954 in Connecticut. She received awards from the American National Red Cross for service in both World War I and World War II. And she participated in the first World Seminar in Health, Physical Education and Recreation in 1952 in Helsinki, Finland. A native St. Louisan, Miss Manley was educated in the St. Louis Public Schools, earned her bachelor’s degree in liberal arts in 1915 from Wellesley College and her master of arts degree in 1932 from Teachers College, Columbia University. Retiring from a 45-year teaching career in 1960 (by this time she was Director of Health, Physical Education and Safety in the University City schools), she became Executive Director of the Social Health Association of Greater St. Louis. She has written 11 publications, including Sex Education in the Home, A Curriculum Guide in Sex Education, and Here You Are: Sex Education for Young Adults. With Dr. A Gwendolyn Drew, WU professor emerita, Miss Manley co-directed five “Traveling Seminars in Health and Physical Education” from 1952 to 1962, initiating the concept of international travel for graduate credit at WU. Tours included Europe, South and Central America, Africa and two trips around the world. Miss Manley also taught summer sessions at 15 universities, including WU. In 1970, she was honored by her peers in the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance, with the R. Tait McKenzie Award for “outstanding contributions to the welfare of man through service to the profession and far ranging interpretation of its goals.”
RALPH ERNEST MORROW
DOCTOR OF HUMANITIES

As Provost Ralph E. Morrow retires from his 31-year career at WU, his colleagues praise him for his loyalty to the University, sound judgment, honesty, integrity and tenacity. As an administrator, he has withstood some extremely difficult times with the best of WU in mind. Dr. Morrow started his career at WU in 1955 as an Assistant Professor of History. A specialist in the Methodist Church of the 19th century, he published a path-breaking book in 1956 titled Northern Methodism and Reconstruction (Michigan State University Press). He was elevated to associate professor in 1957 and professor in 1963. Dr. Morrow was Chairman of the Department of History for seven years during the 1960s. During that period, he recruited some of the most distinguished historians in the nation. As Dean of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences from 1967 to 1979, he organized, strengthened and developed the school to its present significance within the University. As Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences from 1979 to 1984, he provided a model of responsibility and distinguished leadership. In his current position as Provost, he has continued to exhibit the integrity, leadership and love of the University that have characterized his entire career. He is a past chairman of the American Historical Association Committee on College and University Teaching, and the Graduate Council of The Higher Education Coordinating Council of Greater St. Louis. A Phi Beta Kappa, he also has been a John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Fellow, an American Philosophical Society Summer Fellow, and has received the Baruch Award in Southern History. His bachelor’s degree is from Manchester College and his master’s and doctoral degrees are from Indiana University. Chancellor William H. Danforth wrote in a recent letter to the faculty and staff: “It is hard to believe that Ralph Morrow will be retiring after 31 years at WU. No one has given more to this institution. He has been an example for me.”

KLAUS OTTO AUGUST PIPER
DOCTOR OF LETTERS

Klaus Piper joined his father’s firm, the Reinhard Piper Publishing Co., in 1932 at the age of 21. For the next 16 years, father and son withstood the pressures of the Nazi party. During the 1930s, the Pipers maintained contact with the Hitler resistance movement and published expressionist artists like Ernest Barlach, who had been attacked by the Nazis. In 1937, young Piper was promoted to managing director and in January 1946 became president. Because of their anti-Nazi leanings, the Piper Publishing Co. was one of the first publishers in Germany to gain permission in 1946 to publish under the American Occupation Government. Soon some of the most prominent anti-fascist philosophers, psychologists, scholars and authors chose Klaus Piper as their publisher. The list of German authors includes: philosopher Karl Jaspers; Hannah Arendt, a student of Jaspers; Alexander Mitscherlich, founder of the Sigmund Freud Institute in Frankfurt; painter Max Beckmann; theologians Rudolf Bultmann and Hans Küng; sociologist Ralph Dahrendorf, head of the London School of Economics; writer Richard Friedenthal, author of the definitive biography of Goethe; writer Ingeborg Bachmann; and 15 Nobel Prize winners in science. Non-German authors include: Aldous Huxley, Jacques Monod, Yehudi Menuhin, Karl R. Popper and Raymond Aron. Mr. Piper is a member of the PEN Center (the international writers’ organization), the Rotary Club of Munich, the National German Book Trade Association, the Max Beckmann Society and the Max Planck Society. He received the Great Cross of Merits of the Federal Republic of Germany, the Golden Italian Cultural Medal, the German Book Trade Medal, the Friends of the City of Munich Award and the Great Order of Merit from the Republic of Austria.
ALVIN FRANCIS POUSSAINT
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Alvin F. Poussaint, psychiatrist, educator, author and civil rights activist, recently assumed a new role as television comedy consultant. He reviews scripts for "The Cosby Show" for his friend Bill Cosby. Dr. Poussaint eliminates demeaning stereotypes and comments and checks to see that the show makes psychological sense. His full-time position, however, is Associate Professor of Psychiatry and Associate Dean for Student Affairs at Harvard Medical School. He also counsels victims of crime and their families at the Judge Baker Guidance Center in Boston. Dr. Poussaint graduated in 1956 from Columbia University, earned a medical degree in 1960 from Cornell University Medical College, and a master's degree in research and psychiatry in 1964 from the University of California at Los Angeles. In the mid-60s, he worked with the Rev. Jesse Jackson as Southern Field Director of the Medical Committee for Human Rights in Jackson, Miss. Dr. Poussaint has focused much of his research on the concerns of blacks, especially those caught in poverty, illness and crime. His first book, Why Blacks Kill Blacks, with an introduction by Rev. Jackson, was published in 1971. His second, Black Child Care, co-authored with Dr. James Comer, appeared in 1975. He has been a syndicated newspaper columnist and a regular contributor to Ebony and Jet magazines. He has testified before Congress, served as a consultant to the White House, the State Department and the FBI, and represented the United States in official visits to China and Cuba. A founding member of Rev. Jackson's self-help organization, Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity), Dr. Poussaint was an adviser to the 1984 presidential campaign of Rev. Jackson and served as fence-mender in the Jewish community. He was National Treasurer of the Black Academy of Arts and Letters, a 1968 recipient of the Michael Schwerner Award, a Fellow of the American Psychiatry Association and is a member of the National Medical Association.

PAUL SIMON
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Throughout Paul Simon's career, first as a journalist, then as an educator and now as a legislator and author, the U.S. senator from Illinois has been a champion of quality education. Currently, his top priorities in the Senate are education, arms control, world hunger and economic development. Known for his low-key, no-frills style, Simon has been a U.S. senator since 1984 (D-Ill.) and member of the U.S. House from 1974 to 1984. He serves on the Education, Arts and Humanities Subcommittee among other assignments. In the House, he chaired the Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education, directing hearings on areas as diverse as teacher quality, adult illiteracy, math and science education, foreign language study and U.S.-Soviet education and cultural exchange. Simon is the only freshman senator selected by the Democrats as a Deputy Whip. In that role, he monitors Senate floor activities for his party. One of his major responsibilities as a senator is his assignment as lowest-ranking member of the Judiciary Committee—a vital gatekeeper in the next few years as vacancies occur in an aging Supreme Court. In 1948, at the age of 19, Simon became the youngest editor-publisher in the nation when he purchased the Troy (Ill.) Tribune. The paper became one of a chain of 14 weeklies extending from southern to central Illinois. Simon sold the chain in 1966 to devote full time to public service and writing. During his newspaper days, he was elected in 1954 to the Illinois House and was re-elected three times. He ran successfully for the Illinois Senate in 1962 and was re-elected in 1966. Simon was elected Lieutenant Governor in 1968 and encountered the only defeat of his political career when he ran for Governor in 1972. He was Professor of Public Affairs at Sangamon State University in Springfield, Ill., during the 1973-74 academic year and a Fellow at the John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics at Harvard University in spring 1973. Simon writes a weekly column that is distributed to newspapers across Illinois and has written eight books since 1966, representing a variety of topics. The two most recent are: The Tongue-Tied American: Confronting the Foreign-Language Crisis, 1980; and The Once and Future Democrats: Strategies for Change, 1982. He attended the University of Oregon in Eugene, Ore., in 1945-46 and Dana College in Blair, Neb., from 1946 to 1948. He holds 23 honorary doctorates.
JARVIS AYDELOTTE THURSTON
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

At Jarvis Thurston’s retirement party in 1982, Daniel Shea, Chairman of WU’s English Department at the time, remarked that Dr. Thurston had been a member of the faculty at a single institution for over 30 years; encouraged hundreds of student writers, whether they were registered for his courses or not; steered a wise and decisive course as department chairman; and brought national recognition to a department and a university, introducing a luminous literary magazine and a constellation of poets and novelists. During the ceremony, colleagues presented Dr. Thurston with two commemorations of his tenure at WU: the Joan Elkin original painting titled “Jarvis Thurston and His Circle,” and the special 1982 issue of the literary magazine Perspective, that Dr. Thurston edited with his wife, poet Mona Van Duyne. Known as giants among editors of little magazines, they began publishing the magazine in 1947; regular publication ceased in spring 1975. Perspective featured the earliest works of such WU writers as William Cass and Stanley L. Elkin.

Dr. Thurston started his career at WU in 1950 as an Assistant Professor of English. He was promoted to associate professor in 1955 and to full professor in 1962. He taught at the Bread Loaf Writer’s Conference in Vermont in 1974 and 1976, and at the Salzburg Seminars in the American Studies in Austria in 1973. His published works include the books, Short Fiction Criticism, Reading Modern Short Stories and Short Stories from the Literary Magazines. His short stories include “The Cross,” “The Mud Hen” and “The One and Only Appearance of Jeez Christ.” He has written reviews and feature stories for various newspapers, including the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Denver Post and the Salt Lake Tribune. He has a master’s degree and a doctorate from the University of Iowa.

PAUL ADOLPH VOLCKER
DOCTOR OF LAWS

Paul A. Volcker is serving his second four-year term as Chairman of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. Shepherding a $4 trillion economy, he is the most influential economic policy maker in America. He swings the pendulum of economic growth and inflation by deciding how much money to add to the economy. According to a February Newsweek article: The “evidence of Volcker’s money mastery is everywhere. One by one, prices of commodities and assets—everything from gold to farmland—have fallen. Now the price of oil is finally returning to earth, perhaps the ultimate confirmation of Volcker’s victory over inflation. The stock market is on a record-setting spree, and the economy may be ready to enjoy the longest stretch of growth in the postwar era.” Mr. Volcker has served in high office in the Treasury and the Federal Reserve under U.S. Presidents Johnson, Nixon, Carter and Reagan. He began his career in 1952 as an economist at the New York Bank and, later, as a financial economist at Chase Manhattan Bank. In 1962, he joined the U.S. Treasury as Director of Financial Analysis and subsequently became Deputy Under Secretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs, Vice President of the Chase Manhattan Bank and Under Secretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs. During the latter tenure, from 1969 to 1974, he was the principal United States negotiator in the development and installation of a new international monetary system departing from the fixed exchange rate system installed following World War II. He also was a member of the board of the Overseas Private Investment Corporation and of the Federal National Mortgage Association. He received the Alexander Hamilton Award for his service at the Treasury. During the academic year 1974-75, Mr. Volcker was a Senior Fellow in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University. He became President of the New York District Bank in August 1975. Mr. Volcker earned a bachelor’s degree at Princeton University in 1949 and a master’s degree in political economy and government at the Harvard University Graduate School of Public Administration in 1951. He attended the London School of Economics in 1951-52.

THE ALMA MATER

Dear Alma Mater, Thy name is sweet to me.
Those days of youth which All of us spent with thee

Our hearts are all for thee Fair Washington.
Form a dear history, Fair Washington.

Thy halls shall honored be Throughout this great country
Could they renewed be, We'd live our days with thee

For all eternity, Our Washington.
For all eternity, Our Washington.
